Introduction

The actions and behavior of our organisation have the capacity to impact our environment, affecting land, water, air, flora, fauna and most importantly the local community.

Our responsibilities and values cover the preservation of cultural and indigenous heritage, conservation of flora and fauna and protection of current and future land, air and water use opportunities.

We exercise our responsibilities to the environment by:

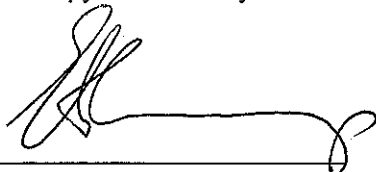

- Complying with legislation, regulations and industry standards;
- Training our workforce to share our corporate values, promoting understanding of cultural and environmental heritage and integrating environmental management into planning and operational activities;
- Consulting and working with local communities to achieve sustainable development through mutual understanding of requirements and objectives and the sharing our corporate knowledge and resources;
- Rehabilitating land areas after cessation of exploration and mining activities and being committed to a reducing pollution;
- Preferential selection of organisations, suppliers and contractors with whom we work, who share our values and adhere to our standards of environmental awareness;
- Continuously improving our use and management of resources to reduce our impact on the environment through workforce and contractor participation, industry initiatives and research; and
- Developing an Environmental Management System which outlines and defines accountabilities, objectives and targets and reporting these regularly to the Board.

DGO Gold Limited strives to reduce the environmental impact of operational activities and is committed to implement programs which offer long term improvement to the environment and benefits to the communities with which we interact.
